

דף יומי הלכה שבת מו

A candelabra that can be taken apart is מוקצה on שבת because perhaps the candelabra will come apart and one will come to put it back together, which is forbidden on שבת. The משנה ברורה adds that this הלכה is applicable even to a candelabra that has never been used.

A candelabra that only appears that it comes in pieces, but in fact is only one piece is still מוקצה because of a גזירה דרבנן.

A person may only have vows released on שבת that are relevant to שבת itself. A husband can release any vow his wife makes because a husband is only allowed to release the vow of his wife on the day he heard the vow, so if it was on שבת, being that שבת is his only opportunity to release the vow, it is permitted.
